

LABOR-MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE TRAINING

The Dubuque Area Labor-Management Council is pleased to offer customized labor-management committee training for your organization. We will deliver the tools you need to establish a plan of action to reach your committee goals.

Participants will be able to:

- Create and maintain a functioning labor-management committee
- Develop strategies for building effective working relationships
- Set goals and implement an action plan
- Hold successful and effective meetings

The Process:

- Step 1 We will meet with management and labor representatives to assess the current situation of the organization's committee or need to create a committee
- Step 2 The training program will be customized to meet the organization's needs
- Step 3 A date is set and the training is held
- Step 4 Follow-up with the committee to see their progress

Instructors: Kelly Cooper, Assistant Director, Dubuque Area Labor-Management Council
Megan Starr, Project Specialist, Dubuque Area Labor-Management Council

When: We will find a date that works best for you and we will hold the training from 8:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Where: The training will be held at the NICC Town Clock Center for Professional Development or another off-site location near your organization.

Investment: $500 includes training for your entire committee, printed materials, lunch, and the assistance to make your committee effective.
